ePACT Network Ltd. Invited to VentureScape's World's Largest Office Hours

Vancouver, British Columbia – ePACT Network Ltd. is proud to announce their invitation to attend VentureScape's World's Largest Office Hours in San Francisco May 14th, providing direct access to some of the largest venture capital firms in the U.S.

VentureScape is the annual meeting of the National Venture Capital Association (NVCA). As the leading association for the venture capital industry in America, NVCA has over 400 members. In the weeks following the announcement of Office Hours, over 150 start-up companies applied to attend. A select group of entrepreneurs were invited to participate, including ePACT.

The VentureScape website describes the World's Largest Office Hours as "bring(ing) together key players from America's startup and innovation ecosystems for two full days of compelling content, unprecedented thought leadership and outstanding networking opportunities."

The agenda spans one-on-one VC-entrepreneur meetings, VC and peer mentoring, networking and ideas exchange, as well as speakers such as General Colin L. Powell, Virginia M. Rometty, Chairman & CEO of IBM and Dick Costolo, CEO of Twitter. Participating venture capital firms include Accel Partners, Canaan Partners, Menlo Ventures, Mohr Davidow Ventures, New Enterprise Associates, SAP Ventures and Scale Venture Partners.

As attendance at Office Hours is by invite only, Co-Founder, Kirsten Koppang Telford explained what this exclusive event means to ePACT. "This is an incredible opportunity for us. We not only get to introduce our company and product to leading investors, but also can brainstorm with industry specialists and expand our personal networks. This will really support our fundraising and business expansion efforts in the U.S."

Co-Founder, Christine Sommers, agreed, "The timing couldn't be more perfect. With our acceptance into the Canadian Technology Accelerator Program, we get to work out of SOMA's Rocketspace starting in April. So to attend Office Hours in May will help build investor relationships that could be key to our next raise."

ePACT is kicking off its Series A fundraising efforts now, working to raise $3-4 Million this spring. This will coincide with the ePACT Network public launch, opening its current closed beta system up to the public.
